THE PRAYER OF DIANA.

Strong gods, with goddesses, Olympus stands Southward and silent, while above I pray.
My course, and seek a favor at your hand, Listen, the while I pray.

On yonder lonely mountain top, where sheep Ere dawn, the gracious youth I love, Below, the brooding night his slumber keeps,
And I keep watch above.

My gliding beams have kissed his cheek, and he Has kissed the sleeping lips to me so dear, And kissed the golden locks of his brown hair, And I would see him near.

I want to be a woman for a night,
O, gracious gods, that ye would grant me this,
I want to be a woman for a night,
That I may love him as he loves his bliss.

By the sweet mysteries of life and death, I, the fair, glorious empress of the sky, Do long to breathe one fragrant mortal breath,
To breathe, and then to die.

Listen, and grant to me this fleeting joy, Listen, and grant to me this precious boon, Oh me! that he should be a human boy,
And I should be the moon.

THE CLAM.

The clam of all the birds that swim,
And fish that glide the air, Both first of all, both great and small, Adorn the bill of the bird.

In shell or fry, or wet or dry,
In fatter, shell or fry, Nor limit nor time, nor limit nor time,
From shell can take the fry.

GLOVES ARE NOT WORN.

The Example Set by the Prince of Wales.

Philadelphia Times.

Heart-burning is a feeble term for the state of anguish into which various strata of American snobocracy finds itself plunged amid the fateful question of gloves or no gloves. Washington, where new notes penetrate slowly, was astonished several times during the season just past by the in-curious of various travelled glasses of fashion and moulds of form who made their entrance to the republican court ungloved. This was naturally an innovation that struck dismay into the well-drilled ranks of Capitolian society. The contest waged violently for a time, but the ungloved invaders earned the day, and the glove is now solemnly abolished from polite society.

The fact illustrates the whimsical basis upon which conventionalisms rest. One day the Prince of Wales, who is very stout and fat, and whose hands are not comfortable in gloves owing to a disagreeable tendency to moisture, drove off in a hurry to hold a levee for the queen. On arriving at the drawing-room he found himself glove-less. It was too late to send, and as it wouldn't have been etiquette for the rest to wear gloves when the prince had none, the ceremony was a gloveless one. Thenceforth gloves were banished from the great social ceremonials, and even in the street, the drawing-room, the opera and the theatre. In France, however, it would be considered as improper to appear in a drawing-room ungloved as unshod. But as the gloves are cheaper on the continent than in this country or England, the proprieties may be observed at a less cost.

Recent Decisions.

Common Carrier.

Perkins v. Railroad Company, 5 Miller, Sup. Ct. Ohio.
The liability of a carrier of passengers for the safety of their baggage, does not extend to the contents of a trunk consisting of samples of merchandise belonging to a traveling salesman. But the carrier, by taking the property into his charge and putting it into a warehouse for safe keeping, assumes the relation of an ordinary bailee, and is bound to take such care of the property as a man of ordinary prudence would of his own, under like circumstances.

Arguable Contracts.

Banister v. Rouse, Sup. Ct. Minn.
When certain undertakings, given on account of the purchase price of a piano, provided for the payment of a certain sum at a certain time, and in case of default made it optional with the payee to retake possession of the instrument, title to remain in him until payment; held that the money was not payable absolutely, so as to make an endorsement necessary, but they were properly assignable as choses in action.

Conditional Deed.

McClary v. Ellis, Sup. Ct. Iowa.
A conveyed land to J for life, and after J's death to J's children.
If J should leave no children the land should go to G and his children. The deed provided that the land should not be alienated by J, nor be sold for debts. Held that the condition against alienation and liability for debts was void.

Contract Price.

Turner et al. v. Webster, Sup. Ct. Kansas.
Where the parties contract for the doing of certain work, and the work is done and accepted, and it appears that there was a misunderstanding as to the price to be paid for it, the law rejects the understanding of each and awards reasonable compensation. The same rule obtains where an agent is employed to contract for work, and in good faith and with reasonable care and diligence makes the contract, although such reasonable compensation exceeds the sum which the agent was authorized to promise.

Fixtures as Personality.

Smith v. Waggoner, Sup. Ct. Wisconsin.
Where a junior chattel mortgagee took possession of mortgaged fixtures and severed them from the real estate with which they were connected, to subject them to sale to satisfy his mortgage, held that he could not, as against a prior chattel mortgage, assert that such fixtures were part of the realty.
When all the parties have seen fit to treat what might otherwise be fixtures and part of the realty as personal property, the law will consider such fixtures, as between the parties, personal property to all intent and purposes.

Master and Servant.

Baker v. Allegheny railroad company, Sup. Ct. Pennsylvania.
A master is not an insurer of the absolute safety of tools furnished to his workmen. He is bound to provide them with safe tools, but he does not engage that they will always continue in the same condition. Any defect which may become apparent in their use it is the duty of the servant to observe and report to his master. But a master is bound to know that a rope used for the purpose of loading heavy stones with the aid of a derrick will last only a limited time, and it is his duty to renew it at proper intervals. He can not furnish a sound rope and fold his arms until by actual breaking it is demonstrated to be unsafe.

Immoral Contract.

Murray et al. v. Wakefield, St. Louis Ct. of appeals.
The plaintiffs were carrying on the business of the Missouri state lottery, which was seriously interfered with by the police commissioners of the city of St. Louis, who caused the arrest of the vendors of tickets. On defendants undertaking that he could and would control the commissioners and prevent such interferences, plaintiff paid him money at different times, which he sought to recover, defendant having failed to perform his contract. Held that the courts will not aid to recover money paid in pursuance of such a contract. It is immaterial that the lottery was legal. Public officers must not be improperly acted upon, even for the doing of that which they have a right to do.

Sunday Scraps.

Politeness is like great thoughts, it comes from the heart.

He who is false to present duty breaks a thread in the loom, and will see the defect when the weaving of a lifetime is unrolled.

Our friends virtues reconcile us to their faults.

The place of charity, like that of God, is everywhere.
Hoarding money is covetousness, squandering it is folly and sin.

Poverty may excuse a shabby coat, but it is no excuse for shabby morals.

He who has not mastered himself, by whom can he be overcome?

Nature has written a letter of credit on some mens faces which is honored wherever it is presented.

The most delicate, the most sensible of all pleasures, consists in promoting the pleasures of others.

Faith, like light, should ever be simple and unbending; while love, like warmth, should beam forth on every side and bend to every necessity.

If a man empties his purse into his head, no man can take it away from him. An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest.

What a delightful thing rest is!
The bed has become a place of luxury to me, said Napoleon. I would not exchange it for all the throne in the world.

The tree of religion drops its leaves continually after they have done their work; and the tree itself grows greater and stronger by the help of each one of them.

The quality of mercy is not strained;
It droppeth as the gentle dew from heaven Upon the place beneath. 'Tis twice blessed: It blesses him that gives and him that takes.
'Tis the mightiest of the mighties.

Our lives are like some complicated machine, working on one side of a wall, and delivering the finished fabric on the other. We cannot cross the barrier and see the end. The work is in our hands—the completion is not.

The noble silent men, scattered here and there, of whom no morning newspaper makes mention of are, said Carlyle, the salt of the earth.
A country that has none or few of these is in a bad way; a forest that has no roots, all turned into leaves and boughs, which must wither and be no forest.

Ice Cream Saloons.

Frank Faber's ice cream saloon, on the roadway near Humes mill, is now fitted nicely with private rooms for ladies. It is also the depot for choice confectionery, candy, etc. Roman punch served to order.

Oars, Oars.

Oars, eleven feet; caustic soda, golden lacquer, asphaltum varnish, furniture varnish, tan bark, etc., in quanties to suit at Geo. W. Humes.

The Central Hotel.

kept hotels in Astoria, situated near the steamer landing, with first class, airy rooms, good board and very reasonable rates. Bar and billiard rooms. The best of wines and liquors, and an excellent glass of San Francisco beer. ANTON BIELLO, Proprietor.

For a first-class oyster stew, fry, pan-roast or fancy roast, go to Roscoe's on Main street, opposite N. Loeb's.
Families supplied by the hundred or the sack, opened or in the shell.

Peter Wilhelm has established a first class saloon in C. H. Page's building, on Squemoche street, near the bell tower, and has appointed Messrs. Wm. Beck & Co. his agents.
The best of everything in the line of wines, liquors, beer, cigars, etc., will be kept on hand.

The Peruvian syrup has cured thousands who were suffering from dyspepsia, debility, liver complaint, boils, humors, female complaints, etc. Pamph-& Sons, Boston.

Did any scientific physician know the formula from which Ammon's Cough Syrup is prepared, he would not only recommend, but prescribe it to his patients troubled with a cough or cold, or any disease of the throat and lungs.
Try it. It has no equal. For the benefit of those who would say, "Another humbug," a trial 15-cent size is prepared.
Ask your druggist to get it for you. In bottles at 15 cts., 50 cts., $1.

Peruvian Bitters.

Cinchona Barks.
The Count Cincbon was the Spanish Viceroy in Peru in 1820. The Countess, his wife, was prostrated by an intermittent fever from which she was freed by the use of the native remedy, the Peruvian bark, or, as it was called in the language of the country, "Quinaquina." Grateful for her recovery, on her return to Europe in 1822, she introduced the remedy in Spain, where it was known under various names, until Linnaeus called it Cinchona in honor of the lady who had brought them that which was more precious than the gold of the Incas.
To this day, after a lapse of two hundred and fifty years, science has given us nothing to take its place. It effectually cures a morbid appetite for stimulants, by restoring the natural tone of the stomach. It attacks excessive love of liquor as it does a fever, and destroys both alike. The powerful tonic virtue of the Cinchona is preserved in the Peruvian Bitters, which are as effective against malarial fever today as they were in the days of the old Spanish Viceroys. We guarantee the ingredients of these bitters to be absolutely pure, and of the best known quality.
A trial will satisfy you that this is the best bitter in the world. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and we will gladly admit this test. For sale by all druggists, grocers and liquor dealers.
Order it.

Letter From Mr. Davidson.

Astoria, May 26, 1881.
It is with pleasure that I call the attention of your readers to the fact that I have established a branch photograph gallery in Astoria, opposite the Commerce House. I earnestly invite every citizen of your town and vicinity to visit it and see the latest display of pictures, firmly believing that the verdict of each one will be that my work is not only of the best but that the prices are reasonable.
All the departments of my gallery are direct to the customer. The operator in charge is an accomplished artist and has an abundance of patience with children and nervous people. I am prepared to do all kinds of viewing, coloring, copying, and enlarging to any size.
In all departments, I will see that my customers go away satisfied, and respectfully solicit their patronage. Very truly, J. D. Davidson, Photographer.
Corner First and Yamhill streets, Portland.

Employment for Ladies.

The Queen City Suspender company, of Cincinnati, are now manufacturing and stocking their new stocking supporters for ladies and children, and their unequalled skirt suspenders for ladies. None should be without them; they are light, physicians recommend them, and are loved in their praise.
These goods are manufactured by ladies who have made the wants of ladies and children a study, and they ask no reference to some reliable and energetic lady to introduce them in this country.
We certainly think that an earnest and intelligent woman, who would solicitation in every household, would meet with a ready response, and that a determined woman could make a handsome and profitable business of it. We advise some lady who is in need of employment to send to the company her name and address, and mention this paper. Address Queen City Suspender company, Nos. 147 and 149 West Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A cough, cold or sore throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable lung disease or consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in asthma, bronchitis, croup, catarrh, and the throat troubles which singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's bronchial troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by ladies and children for nearly a century, they are a tried and true medicine, and have the endorsement of the entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.

Blocks of paper, useful on the desk of accountants, put up by order and for sale at THE ALBANY OFFICE.

Song of the Albany Beer!

Respectfully Dedicated to and Sent by:
CHAS. GRATTKE, - - - ASTORIA.
Good evening kind friends, just listen to me,
And when you have heard me, I'm sure I will give you a story, and sing it out clear And the name of my song is the ALBANY BEER.
You can find it all round in this city of gold, And the way that they make it has never been told.
That's a secret they keep and hold very dear.
For the brewery is drinking that ALBANY BEER.

The brewery is large and the machinery is fine.
And every order is sent to you right up to the door.
They get all kinds of orders from far and near,
And every one's healthy that drinks AL-BANY BEER.

For every thing there looks so clean and so neat,
And their beer is so sparkling, it cannot be beaten.
If you are feeling bad or the blues do appear,
You can drive them away by drinking AL-BANY BEER.

I have an old father, who's now eighty-three,
And this is the advice he gave me to see He spoke to me kindly with a voice bright
"If you want to be healthy, drink ALBANY BEER."

Since then I have done so, and I'm hearty and sound.
At the round age of fifty I can always be found.
At my daily labor before the sun does appear I can drink ALBANY BEER.

Also, on draught, THE CELEBRATED ROCK BEER.

Roadway, opposite O. E. & N. Co's Dock.
